GREETINGS

As I write this the sunshine pours through my window, children play at the park, birds sing and neighbors once again walk up and down Water Street in front of Town Hall. Soon, I'll hear the shouts and laughter from busy ball fields followed by the resonant spring of a diving board and a great big splash! From where I sit, life in the Town of Elmira is truly sweet. I am grateful to be here.

After a lifetime of community service, including eleven years as a Town Board member, I have been honored to take the reigns as Town Supervisor from my friend and mentor, Howard C. Lapple. In addition to his undying dedication to the town and its residents, Howie is a man of enormous good spirit. I will always appreciate his knack for making people feel good about themselves, even on those dreary, raining, flat-tire kinds of days.

FIRST YOUTH AWARD RECIPIENTS

In April, the Town of Elmira bestowed its first-ever Outstanding Town Youth Awards to Rachel Coole and Emily Tiff. Both are lifelong residents who have made significant contributions to their schools and community, as well as demonstrated qualities of leadership, character and good citizenship.

Coole, an EFA senior won 1st place in this year's Rotary Youth Salute. According to her guidance counselor, she lives her convictions, overcomes her challenges and seeks a life of service to others.

Tiff, a Notre Dame junior is an accomplished fundraising entrepreneur. Through her jewelry-making enterprise she has raised thousands of dollars for local cancer causes. Her substantial resume includes a European stint with People to People and a mission trip to Mexico.

Outstanding Youth Awards will be given quarterly. For the second quarter, youth leaders, parents, educators and clergy may submit nominations of young people in grades 7 – 12 who reside in the town of Elmira by June 30th. more on page 3

Lock It or Lose It

Chief of Police, Pete Michalko says theft of private property from inside cars is on the rise. "In one night, twenty-nine unlocked cars were entered," Michalko notes. Targeted items include GPS units, spare change, cell phones, CDs, purses, XM and Sirius radios. "People can make the problem disappear with one push of the power lock," says Michalko. "Locked cars would send a strong 'don't bother going to the Town of Elmira' message to the criminals."

Crosswalk Courtesy

With the warm weather comes the following warning: Motorists and cyclists must stop for pedestrians in all designated crosswalks. It's the law. It's also just plain nice. When you see a child heading to school, the park or pool; a parent pushing a stroller; a jogger; or a couple walking the dog please stop. Your example will help teach others and help us all keep the town a friendly, safe place in which to live.

Building Permit Basics

If you're contemplating a construction project, Code Enforcement Officer, Chip LeValley reminds you to check with him about the proper permits. New York State has specific and complex requirements concerning how a building or structure can be built. "It's all about human safety," he says. "It's my job to ensure that parcels, homeowners and buildings – commercial and residential – meet the standards for structural integrity and fire protection." LeValley also helps protect residents against poor workmanship and potential construction scams.

Burning Questions

Now is the time Fire Chief, John L. LeValley says he gets asked a lot of questions about outdoor fires – when, where and how much may be burned. "The answer is simple," he says. "There is no open burning in the Town of Elmira Fire District 1." Too many "innocent" fires spread to garages or wooded areas, requiring a great deal of effort (often more than one fire department) to extinguish. The only fire permitted on residents' property is a cook fire. "That's a fire contained with at least a Class 1 cooking device," LeValley explains. "It means the food being cooked can be enclosed by a lid or cover." Anything else, including popular chimineas or fire pits, is considered open burning and is therefore illegal.

Doggie Doos & Don'ts

Lots of folks are using the small, brown "doggie bags" provided throughout Pirozollo Park. That's great! Now, please dispose of them properly in the waste containers. And, please, please, please keep your dog on a leash for his or her own safety, as well as that of Town residents. The leash law is in effect at all times in the Town of Elmira and will be enforced by officers from the SPCA with the authority to issue citations.

Time to Tidy-Up

The Highway Department has begun to assess winter damage and drainage issues along the 40+ miles of urban and rural roads that crisscross the Town of Elmira. They'll trim trees, sweep, patch, pave and repair straight through until fall when leaf pick-up begins.

STAR Status

Residents must file for Enhanced Star Exemptions by March 1st of the calendar year in which they turn 65. Anyone born in the year 1946 must file by March 1, 2011.

GREETINGS continued

So, what can I do to make your day? How about a 10% tax cut for 2011? Seriously. When I took office, the entire board, staff and I rededicated ourselves to a single concept – government can and must do better to react and respond to all taxpayers, saving money without sacrificing services. We have all sharpened our pencils and are pleased to report we've discovered a host of creative cost savings and efficiencies. That's not all. We've also been able to expand and improve some essential town services. Check out your new compost program, recycling bins at Pirozollo Park and Senior Home Improvement Grants. We've instituted Outstanding Town Youth Awards, investigated a Chemung River trail beautification project and will soon replace the vintage phone system at Town Hall, so you'll never get a busy signal again. You'll even be able to leave us a voicemail.

Come say hello. I look forward to meeting you. More importantly, hold my feet to the fire. I look forward to serving you.

HISTORY LESSONS

The History of Demarest Parkway & The Demarest Name Town of Elmira Scott W. Deming- Town Historian

In May of 2010 the Demarest Parkway Association will celebrate its 70th anniversary. Demarest Parkway is named after Mark W. Demarest who inherited the land from his mother Arline Lewis Demarest. The homes on the southern end of Demarest Parkway were built between 1940 and 1957. According to recollections from the original residents, the association was formed in 1940 by Minnie Demarest (Mark's wife) and Alpheus Underhill (one of the original home owners) to control the development of the lower portion of Demarest Parkway. Post Depression and pre-WWII housing tended to favor smaller, less expensive homes. They wanted to develop lower Demarest Parkway with the same quality and approximately size of homes that were located on upper Demarest Parkway and West Water Street. There were also concerns that cottage development along the river on the streets south of West Water Street would continue up lower Demarest Parkway. The association wanted to continue the parkway island concept from upper Demarest Parkway to lower Demarest Parkway. As a result of these concerns the association filed the protective covenants and the neighborhood committee agreement in the Chemung County clerk's office on May 24, 1940. The neighborhood committee would be required to approve any changes to these original covenants. A photograph of lower Demarest Parkway from 1949 (see photo below) shows the street still under development and the cottages that existed along the Chemung River at the time.

The Demarest name can be traced back to David deMarets who arrived in America on April 16, 1663 from Germany. David was born in 1620 at Beauchamps, France. When he was a young man the family relocated numerous times moving from France to Holland. They fled to Germany in 1651 due to the fear of war between France and Belgium and seeking assurances of protection and hope of religious freedom. David arrived in America in 1663 and first settled in a Huguenot village on Staten Island where he remained for two years before relocating to Harlem, NY. Staten Island at the time was sparsely settled and open to constant attacks from the Indians as well as attacks from the English. David organized the French Protestant Church on Staten Island and was recognized on a tablet to his memory at the Huguenot Church at Huguenot Park. In 1665 they relocated to Harlem, NY where David took an active role in town affairs. He was appointed to his first public office of Overseer in 1667 and later went on to become Magistrate and Constable. His name is mentioned frequently in references to the History of Harlem. David relocated from Harlem and purchased 2000 acres of land between Hackensack and the Hudson River in 1677 which later came to be known as the French Patent. The land was acquired from the Tappan Indians with the understanding that 45 families would settle there. David was a prominent citizen of the Hackensack community for fifteen years while in New Jersey and died in 1693 at the age of 73 years of age.

Mark W. Demarest (who Demarest Parkway is named after) is a ninth generation descendant of David deMarets mentioned above. The generations of male Demarest descendant's births can be traced from Mannheim, N.J. to Kinderkamack, N.J. to Schraalenburgh, N.J. (now Dumont, N.J.) to Catskill, New York where they spent 60+ years (3 generations) after the Revolutionary War, to Elmira, New York on May 10, 1835 (according to the History of Chemung County by Ausburn Towner) to Lawrenceville, Pa. where they show up in the 1860 US Census and then back to Elmira. The first presence of the Demarest name in the Town of Elmira was John Henry Demarest (Mark's grandfather and seventh generation Demarest was a lumber merchant while living in Catskill, New York) from the 1870 US Census where his occupation was listed as a farmer at 66 years of age along with his wife Eliza, 58 years of age. His son Woodman Demarest (Mark's father and eighth generation) was also listed in 1870 in the Town of Elmira as a farmer at 38 years of age with his wife Arline (aka Caroline) age 26 with one son Mark age 1. In the 1880 US Census Woodman is listed in the Town of Elmira at 49 years of age with his wife Caroline age 37 and son Mark age 11. In the 1910 US Census Mark Demarest is listed in the City of Elmira on West Church Street in the 1st Ward as a bookkeeper-fire engine maker at age 41 years of age with wife Minnie age 42. Minnie's parents (Samuel and Cora Banks) and sister (Elizabeth Banks) are shown as living with them. In the 1920 US Census Mark Demarest is listed as living in what appears to be his father Woodman's house in the city of Elmira on West Church Street in the 3rd Ward with his wife Minnie, his father Woodman (now 88 years of age), his father-in-law Samuel and his sister-in-law Elizabeth. Mark Demarest died on July 28, 1932 and Minnie Demarest died on September 19, 1941. They are both buried in Elmira's Woodlawn Cemetery.

The land that Demarest Parkway was built on can be traced back to the original owner Adam Sly who occupied a 320 +/- acre piece of property in the Town of Elmira. Adam was one of the early settlers coming to Elmira after the Revolutionary War along with John Hendy. It was quite common for soldiers who fought in the area under General Sullivan and General Washington to return here when the war was over. The family names of Sly and Demarest can be found in the regiment listing of General John Hathorn of Warwick, New York who fought during the revolutionary war and led the Battle of Minisink. It was after the defeat at Minisink that General Washington ordered General John Sullivan and General James Clinton to lead a huge military expedition against the Iroquois nation in the Finger Lakes Region. The Iroquois were defeated and their lands were confiscated. After the war land was given to thousands of war veterans in lieu of pensions and back pay. Prior to the revolutionary war John Hathorn was part of the surveying team that surveyed the borders between New York/New Jersey and New York/ Pennsylvania as well as Chemung County following the war. He had a very successful political career as State Assemblyman, State Senator, Assembly Speaker and a member of the House of Representatives. He died in 1825 and is buried in the Warwick, NY cemetery.

In 1866 the lands of William T. Post were deeded to Arline Lewis Demarest shortly after her marriage to Woodman Demarest on March 21, 1865. This was a 61.5 acre parcel or approx 1/5 of the "Old Adam Sly Farm" (see diagram of land parcel). It is unclear what the connection between William T. Post and Arline Demarest may have been or whether this land was a wedding gift. What is known is that William T. Post was the son of Catherine Hathorn Post and the grandson of General John Hathorn discussed above. He went on to become NYS Assemblyman from 1864-1865 and Elmira Postmaster from 1867-1869. From Arline Demarest the land was then passed down to her son Mark Demarest.

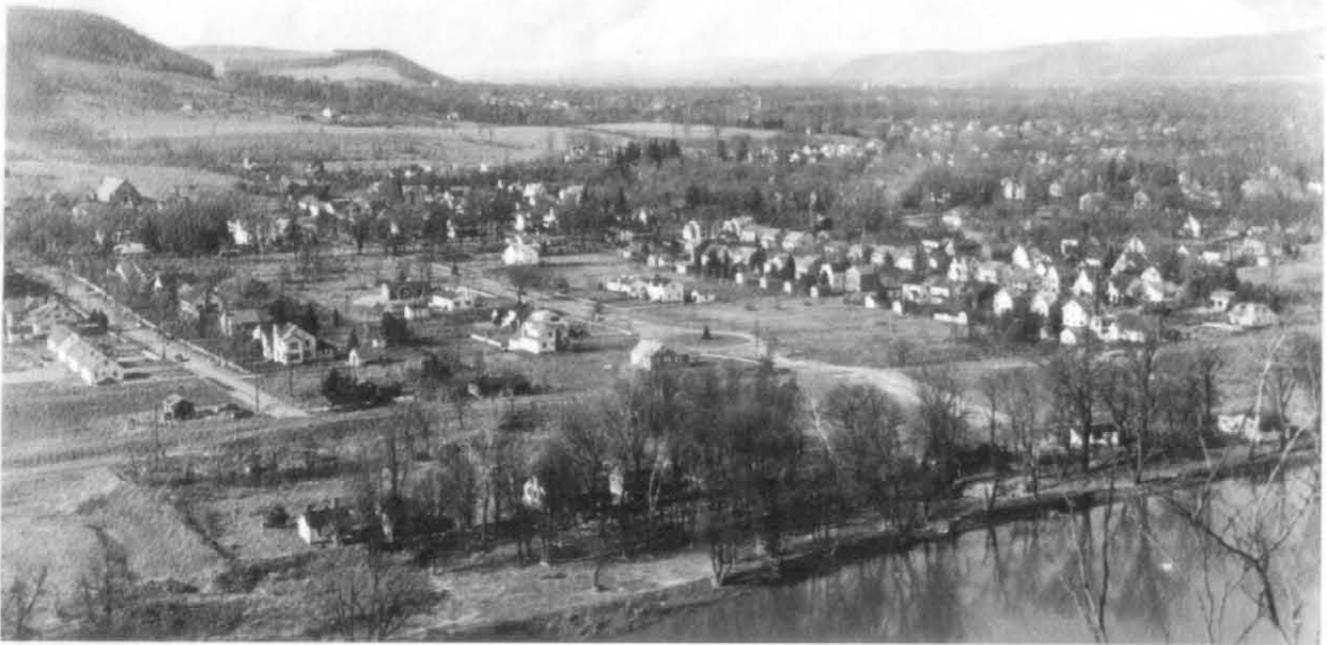

Information for this article was taken from the History of Demarest Parkway by James E. Barr, The Demarest Family by the Demarest Family Association of Hackensack N.J. published in 1964, the Steele Memorial Library and its website, US Census Records and various other internet websites.

I continue to look for historic subjects (people, places, homes, historical events, old schools, family history, etc) about the Town of Elmira to write about. If you have any suggestions or information for future articles please e-mail them to me at demingsw@yahoo.com or call me at 607-732-1177.

HAPPY RIVER TRAILS

An open letter from Jim Pfiffer

Some of the most beautiful and popular nature trails in the region run through West Elmira. The narrow hard-packed dirt paths weave two miles through woods and meadows along the Chemung River, from Ohio Avenue in the Town to the Grove Street boat launch in the City of Elmira. Regular use of the primitive trails led to their natural development over time. Today they are arguably the most-used trails along the 45-mile river. Children and adults hike, walk dogs, mountain bike and cross-country ski along them. With a few improvements they can be made even more safe and beautiful.

That's why Friends of the Chemung River Watershed seeks to partner with the Town of Elmira to explore the possibility of developing the paths into a professionally designed and constructed nature trail. Eventually, the trail would connect with other trails in other municipalities along the river. Until then, Town of Elmira residents would have a beautiful nature trail at their disposal. I am one of those residents.

River trails improve our quality of life. They provide fresh air recreation, outdoor classrooms and a place to explore and learn about local history, culture and self. They connect people and places, people and nature. A well-built river trail will build a sense of community and unite citizens in greater pride for their hometown and environment.

River trails are a product of partnerships among governments, citizens, non-profit organizations, businesses, property owners, regulatory agencies and the people who use the trail. Their success depends on broad-based and long-term community support. They are your trails.

The trail will be built with the least disruption of the river environment. The trail idea was proposed in a 2008 Chemung County master plan for river development. A river trail was the public's No. 1 request in proposed countywide river development.

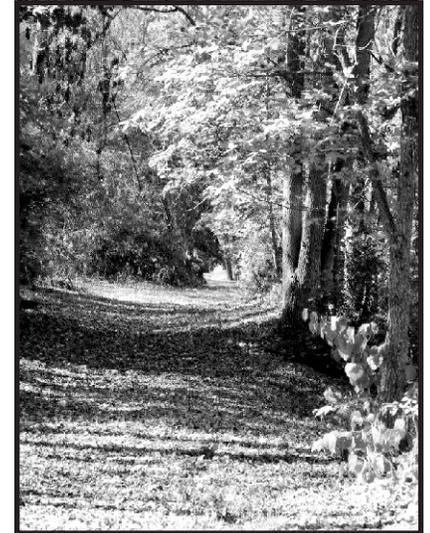

We plan to finance the project with grants, in-kind services and donations. Chemung River Friends will secure most of the money. The town can provide materials and services, using town employees and equipment, when possible.

Please understand that the project is in the early discussion stages. No money has been committed. However, it's important, even in the preliminary stages, to keep residents informed and to seek your feedback. I invite you to contact Town of Elmira officials or Chemung River Friends to share your thoughts and ideas.

Respectfully,

Jim Pfiffer
